Dictionary

Beta to benchmark – this ratio shows the relation between changes in the value of a fund unit and the benchmark. Beta of 1 means that changes in the value of a fund unit are the same as of the benchmark, which suggests that the composition of instruments in the fund is the same as the composition of instruments in the benchmark. Beta below 1 means that a growth (decrease) in the benchmark by 1% is usually connected with a growth (decrease) in the value of a fund unit by less than 1%. Beta over 1 means that a growth (decrease) in the benchmark by 1% is usually connected with a growth (decrease) in the value of a fund unit by more than 1%.

Beta to WIG – this ratio shows the relation between changes in the value of a fund unit and changes in the WIG index. Beta of 1 means that changes in the value of a fund unit are the same as changes in the WIG index. Beta below 1 means that a growth (decrease) in the benchmark by 1% is usually connected with a growth (decrease) in the value of the WIG index by less than 1%. Beta over 1 means that a growth (decrease) in the WIG index by 1% is usually connected with a growth (decrease) in the value of a fund unit by more than 1%.

Information ratio – this ratio shows the profitability of risk borne by the fund compared to its benchmark. The higher the information ratio, the lower the risk at which the return of the fund is generated compared to the benchmark. The fund with the information ratio over 0.3 is considered as effectively managed.

Tracking error – this ratio shows how risky the given fund is compared to its benchmark. The higher the ratio, the more aggressively is the fund managed compared to its benchmark. The ratio is used to compare the risk of funds with a similar profile (e.g. equity funds).

Sharpe's ratio – this ratio shows the profitability of risk borne by the fund compared to safe investments (e.g. treasury bonds). The higher the Sharpe's ratio, the lower the risk at which the return of the fund is generated compared to safe investments.

Standard deviation – this ratio shows how risky the given fund is. The higher the ratio, the more volatile the price of a fund unit. This ratio is used to compare the risk of funds with a similar profile (e.g. equity funds).
